

CSRA Crusaders

"With a Mission to Develop Godly Manhood, Team Sportsmanship, and Sound Fundamental Baseball Players in a Christian Homeschool Environment."

The CSRA Crusaders Baseball program was established in 2003 allowing athletes to play in a competitive high school and junior high organization. The CSRA Crusaders team is located in the Central Savannah River Area of Georgia and South Carolina, welcoming players from central Georgia through mid South Carolina.

This program includes year round baseball training. The CSRA Crusaders play all year through private and group lessons, a local fall ball program, winter indoor training, spring junior high and high school games, participation in the Homeschool World Series games, and summer workouts.

The CSRA Crusaders baseball program is strictly for homeschool & private school (school with not baseball program) boys, ages 12 and up. This program is both an athletic organization and a fellowship of sorts to boys. Tryouts for the team are held in November of each year and posted on our web site. Program fees are reasonably priced due to strong parent participation.

The intent of the program is to offer a high level of competitive baseball that parents and student athletes might have not considered obtainable in choosing to educate at home and private school.

The CSRA Crusaders program is for those who want to take their baseball interest further, to achieve their maximum playing potential, and get in the best position possible for obtaining college scholarships and/or professional interest.

If your previous baseball experience has been with Little League, Pony League or public school, you will rapidly encounter an exceptional and amazing difference with the CSRA Crusaders. As you come to know the other players, parents and coaches, you will welcome the uplifting experience of Christian baseball.

The CSRA Crusaders team was founded by Christian families to serve student athletes in the Central Savannah River Area of Georgia and South Carolina. The Crusaders baseball program is influenced by Christian values with the acknowledgment of a higher power, striving to keep the baseball priorities in line with the responsibilities of followers of Jesus Christ. The CSRA Crusaders maintain a conduct that relies on Christian standards of morality and dress. Coaches are Christian fathers who have the desire to encompass Godly manhood through character training within the framework of playing competitive baseball.
